City of Split

The city of Split can be reached by The Adriatic Coastal Road, winding by the sea or by hinterland roads connected to Split. It will take you 3 hours to get to Zagreb and 3.5 hours to get to Dubrovnik in your car. You can also reach Split if you get on a coast ferry liner from Rijeka or Dubrovnik, from all central Dalmatian islands. There are excellent fast and regular ferry lines from Ancona and Pescara, Italy. From the Airport Split flights connect the city with Zagreb several times a day, as well as with European capitals. There are also trains from Split to the north of the country and further on to Europe. You can transport your car by train, as well.
